Identify the weaknesses you want to improve and the strengths you want to emphasize. Set great goals with deadlines. And make a list of action steps that start you on the way immediately. - I'm going to do the same exercise while I'm on a plane today. List #2 for your business: Make a list of the top 5 factors that can/do have the greatest impact on your business. So make a plan to spend a few hours - at least - on each of them this week. For example, contacting affiliates, contacting old customers, making videos on YouTube. Etc. Focus on the BIG levers that can boost your business. Now let me talk about The Work of My Life (this includes you): I spent the weekend in Las Vegas talking at another personal trainer seminar and sharing a bit about my Transformation Mission to help more than 1,000,000 men and women change their bodies and their lives. It's literally my life's work. In fact, I recorded a free presentation for you about Mission 1 Million here: =&gt; And if you're a personal trainer, I'd love to have you join me on my World Mission... just check out this site and request more information about membership of the TT First Fifty Club. Helping 1,000,000 people is a huge mission, but I was really inspired by something that happened to me over the weekend that makes me really believe it's possible. Here is a really cool story about a powerful example of how you can help others around the world. Take this... At a previous seminar in March, a young conference coach approached and said, Hey, do you recognize me? Because I knew this person was a coach, I thought of all the past coaches' conferences when we might have met, but to my embarrassment I didn't recognize her... though in the back of my mind I knew she looked very familiar. Turns out it was Emily Johnson, the winner of the first TT Transformation Contest in 2008. After winning the contest, she decided to become a personal trainer in Oregon and recently started her own bootcamps. Isn't that nice? I would never have believed that 3 years ago, when I launched my first Transformation Contest (with absolutely no idea if anyone would enter), an amazing young woman like Emily would start down a life-changing path. It was so nice to meet her and I am extremely proud that she has continued her transformation to help others transform their lives as well. That's the power to help people transform their lives. That's the influence you can have. All it takes for you to be that kind of positive influence in the world is a powerful and a way to reach people who need support. Isn't it amazing what you can do these days? Think about what you are. From... Let it sink. Powerful things. So that's why I'd love for you to become a certified turbulence coach and join me in my mission to help 1,000,000 people transform their bodies and their lives. We can do that. But I'm going to need your help to reach these people personally and on some new sites I'm creating. If you're interested in getting the Turbulence Training Certification – at the Founder's Level – just go there and watch the free presentation here: =&gt; I look forward to hearing from you and hope to see you at our Certified Turbulence Trainer seminar later this fall. Take action and change the world. Craig Ballantyne PS - I'm accepting 30 more coaches... .. starting on Wednesday. As part of the First Fifty TT Trainers, you'll have special recognition and priority access at all Turbulence Training events, and you'll forever be on my radar when I'm thinking of helping you become a better coach and attract more customers. It's the least I can do for coaches who are great takers and who were the first coaches to support my life's mission to help 1,000,000 people transform their bodies and their lives.
